

ALBUQUERQUE EVENING HERALD

TRIBUNE CITIZEN.
VOL. 28, NO. 56.

ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, MONDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1911.

EVENING HERALD
Vol. 4, No. 539.

DEMOCRATS CONCESSIONS ATTEMPT TO GRANTED TO NAME THE CHINESE JUDGES REBELS

Barefaced Attempt to Give Majority in County a Minority Representation At Polls November 7.

HEARING STILL ON IN DISTRICT COURT

County Commissioners Mandated This Morning to Their Giving Republicans
But One Judge.

A hearing which is destined to play a large part in future in the appointment of election judges in this country is on this afternoon in the district court, where, with F. E. Wood appearing for the Republicans, Felix H. Lester for the Democrats and Julius Strahl for the progressives, with District Attorney Knock for the county commissioners, the question of a mandamus writ issued this morning, preventing the commissioners from appointing one election judge from each precinct from the Republican party, one from the progressive and one from the Democratic, is being heard.

The hearing is occasioned by a barefaced attempt on behalf of the county commissioners, under guise of naming one representative of each party, to name two for the same ticket, the Democrat-Gillenwater aggregation, and one from the Republicans, which is contrary to law. The scheme was caught by Francis E. Wood, who, Saturday night, gathered some information of what might be tried today, and prepared to put a spoke into the wheel of Pan Jesus.

The plot exposed by him today would give the Democratic-Gillenwater aggregation, under the thin guise of Gillenwater filing a ticket called the "Progressive Republican" ticket, with a special emblem, but which in reality is nothing more nor less than the ticket filed by the Democrats, a representation on the boards of election judges.

The loyalists are now in undisputed possession of the entire city of Hankow, including the powder factory. They are also in control of the railway. Their position here is advantageous for a sudden attack against the arsenal at Han Yung.

A. H. Kepler, the American missioner who was wounded in Friday's fighting is in serious condition. His injuries are in the neck and arm. He was watching the fighting from the top of a building in the Japanese concessions when he was hit by the stray bullet. Mr. Kepler is attached to the Presbyterian mission station at Shang Tan.

Rebel Forces Game.

Fridays battle at Kilometer Ten was a splendid exhibition of gameness and pluck on the part of the rebel forces.

Although they were outnumbered two to one by the trained force of imperialists in front of them and were subjected from the flank to a raking cross fire from Admiral Sash's warship, they held their ground until nearly five hundred had been killed, and 1,300 wounded. At last they were compelled to retire. Their ranks were broken but there was no panic.

The advance of the loyalists was a splendid justification of the training which these northern troops have received recently under European instructors. Ten thousand strong, they crossed into the rebel territory during the night and attacked the entrenched revolutionary force at daybreak Friday.

Fleet Decides Battle.

There were about 5,000 of the rebel troops. Those were behind well-planned fortifications and had little to fear from the attacks of the troops. It was the guns of Admiral Sash's fleet which finally decided the day against them.

Sash's eight vessels approached the rebel positions soon after the advance of the imperial troops began but did not fire any shots. After a little while the eight ships silently retired as if they had decided not to participate in the engagement. Later they returned, this time ready for business.

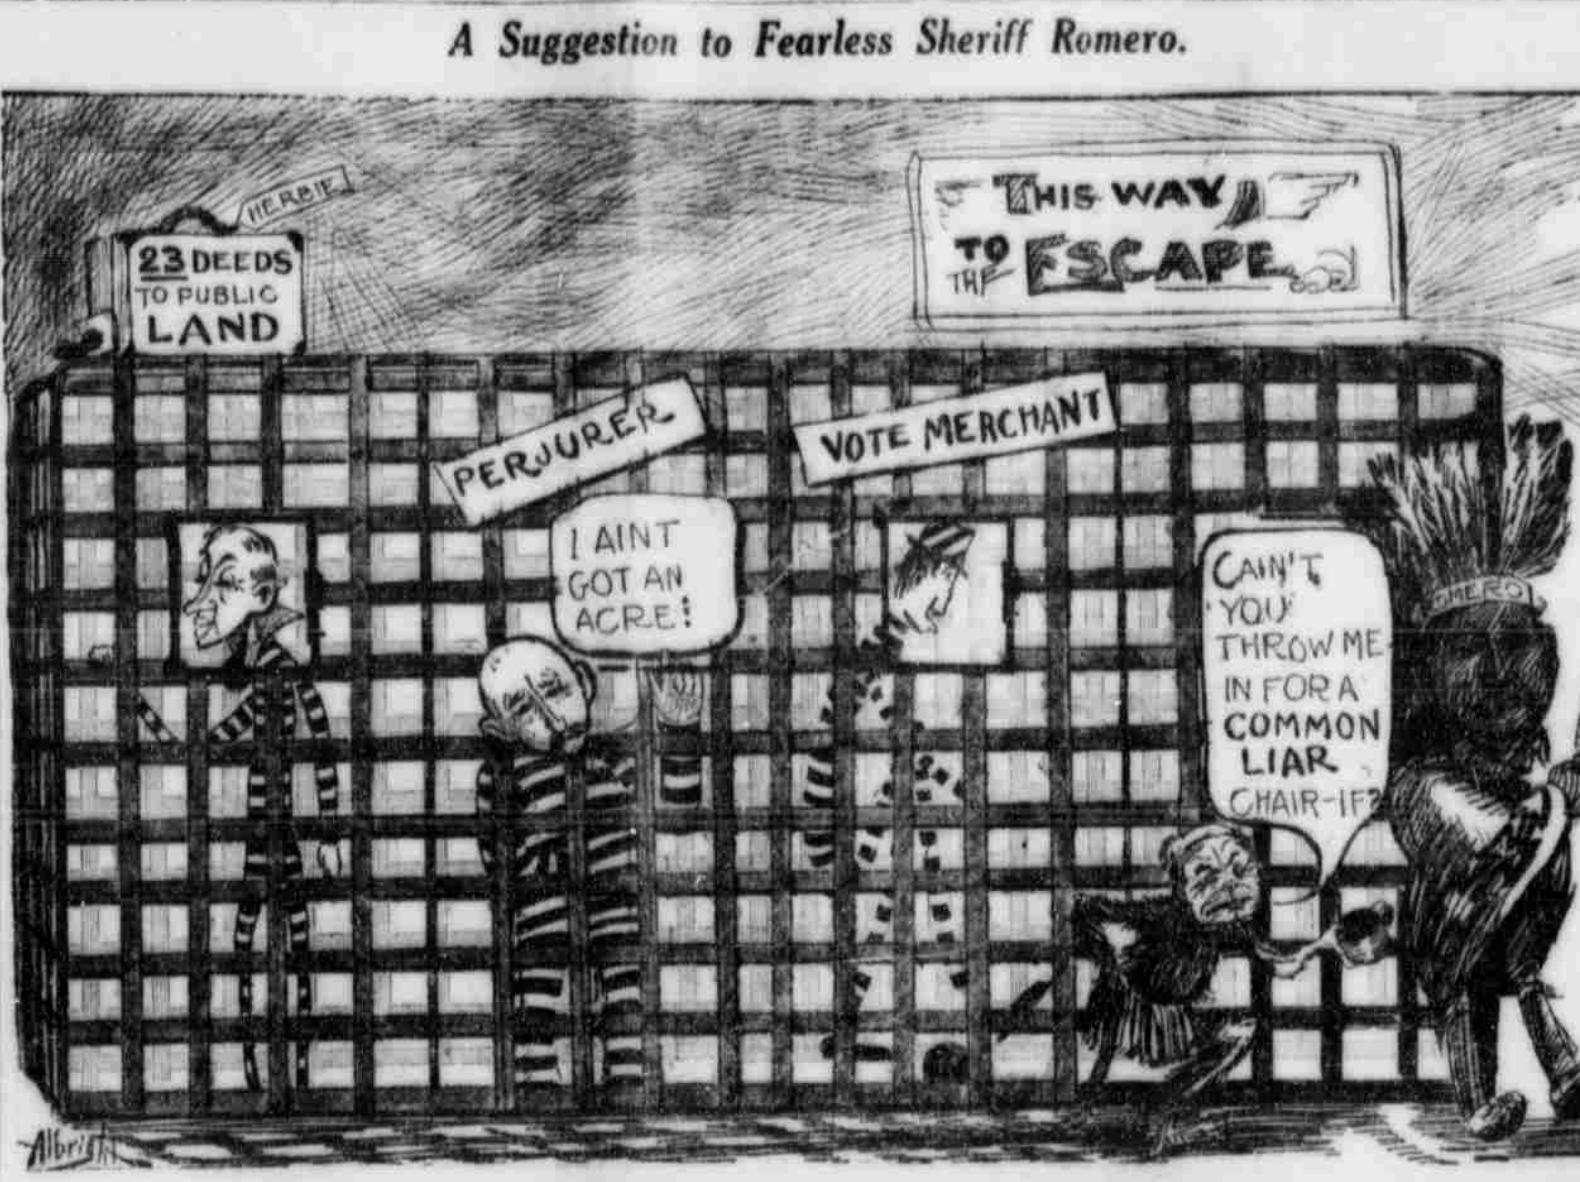

The range was short and the gunners mercilessly poured in their shells on the rear of the rebel positions. The slaughter was appalling. The rebel batteries replied effectively but were finally silenced. The gunboats drew still nearer and the revolutionaries were compelled to retire.

The loyalists, whose losses had been slight advanced on the abandoned trenches in splendid order under cover of the batteries, capturing fifteen field guns and taking fifty revolutionaries prisoners.

Cheer Like School Boys.

But the rebels were not yet satisfied. They returned to the fray in the afternoon bringing reinforcements, fresh field guns and Maximines. They advanced at double quick, cheering like cage school boys. They attacked

(Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

TO MAKE UP FOR THE PROFIT ON HIS ESCAPED BOARDERS, THE CHIEF MIGHT DEPUTIZE THE TRIBE.

SAFETY APPLIANCES ACTS APPLY ON STATE HAULS

If Shipments Are Made On Railroads Highways for Interstate Commerce, Federal Law Is in Effect.

By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire
Washington, Oct. 30.—A sweeping interpretation was given today by the supreme court of the United States to the federal safety appliance acts when it held that the law is violated by shipments from one point in a state to another point in the same state, if carried in a car not properly equipped but used on a railway that is a highway for interstate commerce.

The loyalists are now in undisputed possession of the entire city of Hankow, including the powder factory. They are also in control of the railway. Their position here is advantageous for a sudden attack against the arsenal at Han Yung.

ITALIANS ARE KILLING
HUNDREDS OF ARABS

By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire
Tripoli, Oct. 28.—(via Malta, Oct. 30)—For three days the Italians have been systematically slaughtering Arabs in the residential oasis outside the city. Every Arab met has been shot down without trial. Many women have been killed.

In the confusion attending the Italian bombardment of Bengasi, on October 19, immense damage was done. Three hundred civilians, one-half of whom were women and children, were killed.

Although they were outnumbered two to one by the trained force of imperialists in front of them and were subjected from the flank to a raking cross fire from Admiral Sash's warship, they held their ground until nearly five hundred had been killed, and 1,300 wounded. At last they were compelled to retire. Their ranks were broken but there was no panic.

The advance of the loyalists was a splendid justification of the training which these northern troops have received recently under European instructors. Ten thousand strong, they crossed into the rebel territory during the night and attacked the entrenched revolutionary force at daybreak Friday.

Fleet Decides Battle.

There were about 5,000 of the rebel troops. Those were behind well-planned fortifications and had little to fear from the attacks of the troops. It was the guns of Admiral Sash's fleet which finally decided the day against them.

Sash's eight vessels approached the rebel positions soon after the advance of the imperial troops began but did not fire any shots. After a little while the eight ships silently retired as if they had decided not to participate in the engagement. Later they returned, this time ready for business.

The range was short and the gunners mercilessly poured in their shells on the rear of the rebel positions. The slaughter was appalling. The rebel batteries replied effectively but were finally silenced. The gunboats drew still nearer and the revolutionaries were compelled to retire.

The loyalists, whose losses had been slight advanced on the abandoned trenches in splendid order under cover of the batteries, capturing fifteen field guns and taking fifty revolutionaries prisoners.

Cheer Like School Boys.

But the rebels were not yet satisfied. They returned to the fray in the afternoon bringing reinforcements, fresh field guns and Maximines. They advanced at double quick, cheering like cage school boys. They attacked

(Continued on Page 2, Column 1)

TAFT JOINS UNION BEFORE LAYING CORNERSTONE

Becomes Member of Bricklayers Organization; In Happy
Frame of Mind He Bares Head to Heavy Downpour.

By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 26.—President Taft motored many miles through the mud and gloom of a rainy day in Chicago today to keep the series of engagements that marked the end of his longest visit to this city. The president seemed to have the top hat on his automobile and with head naked a greater part of the time he rode through the drizzle in apparently a very happy frame of mind.

His first trip of the day was to the stockyards, where he made a brief address on scientific agriculture at the National Dairy show. He said he was sorry that Pauline Wayne, the famous White House cow, was not present. Mr. Taft referred to Pauline as "our maid."

Next the president motored back to town to lay the corner stone of the New Hamilton high building.

The club house is in the heart of the business district and the streets in its vicinity were blocked for an hour or more. While the president was speaking the crowd nearly broke into a panic. The people in the rear, fighting for better positions, started a general forward movement which swept aside the solid wall of blue coats that had stood between the crowd and the speaking platform.

The disorder was so great that Mr. Taft stepped aside and the mounted police were hurriedly summoned. At sight of the men on the horses the throng adjested down and the ceremonies proceeded.

At the end of a brief speech the president, grasping a trovel, exclaimed:

"I will now allow how a cornerstone really should be laid." The bricklayers' union had insisted that Mr. Taft join their organization before he was permitted to officiate at today's ceremony. So the president had his union card in his pocket.

A luncheon followed the cornerstone laying.

This afternoon the president had a short conference with Louis de la Farme, brother of the president of Mexico, who offered greetings and expressions of good will from the executive of the southern republic.

EDWARD WEST, TRINIDAD MILLIONAIRE, IS DEAD

By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire
Trinidad, Colo., Oct. 30.—Edward West, a millionaire and sheep raiser died here today of Bright's disease of the heart. He was 65 years of age, and came here penurious forty-two years ago.

A widow, two sons and two daughters survive.

TAFT NAMES NOVEMBER 30
AS THANKSGIVING DAY

By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire
Chicago, Oct. 30.—President Taft today issued his annual Thanksgiving proclamation, sitting on citizens of the United States to celebrate Thursday, November 30 as a day of Thanksgiving and peace.

PLANS TO DISSOLVE TOBACCO TRUST ARE DISCUSSED

Distinguished Counsel With Attorney General Wickes-ham Attend Hearing Before U. S. Circuit Court.

By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire
New York, Oct. 30.—Before a gathering of distinguished counsel in the southern district of New York, hearings began today to devise some plan of dissolution and reorganization of the tobacco trust ordered by the supreme court of the United States. Attorney General Wickesham tried the government's answer to the reorganization plan proposed by the American Tobacco company and defendants in the government's anti-trust suit.

The opponents of the railroad in the dispute are the ranchers of Arizona, Arizona and victims who propose to construct an immense dam across the canyon which it is planned will impound sufficient water to irrigate 30,000 acres of new arid land.

The matter comes within the jurisdiction of the department of the interior by virtue of the fact that much of the land in question is within the San Carlos Indian reservation.

The original trouble between Mr. Bursum and Mr. Hageman grew out of certain recommendations made by Mr. Bursum after Hageman became governor, regarding the appointment of territorial officials and others.

George Washington Pritchard, now campaigning with Mr. Hageman was one of the bones of contention.

Mr. Bursum was chairman of the Republican State Central committee. He had a reasonable right to make suggestions to the governor of the territory. He ventured to make one or two suggestions regarding appointments.

Mr. Hageman became indignant. He asserted that Mr. Bursum and no other man could presume to make recommendations to him as to any appointment.

Mr. Hageman stated that the appointment of territorial officials was his personal privilege and that he would get rid of Mr. Bursum or any other man who attempted to interfere with that privilege.

He also stated that he would ruin Mr. Bursum's political standing and his influence in the territory.

I had several interviews with Mr. Hageman and he repeated a number

FIGHT FOR CONTROL OF ARIZONA BOX CANYON BEGINS

Southern Pacific and Ranchers
Seek Right to Control Valley; Question Comes Under Interior Jurisdiction.

By Evening Herald A. P. Leased Wire
Los Angeles, Oct. 30.—Samuel Adams, first assistant secretary of the interior, accompanied by a number of department officials and aides, has arrived here to take up the disputed question of the disposition of the famous Box canyon in Arizona. The hearing on which will be held here upon the outcome depends the fate of a cherished project of the Southern Pacific Railway company and the possible sacrifice of the proposed main line which it is figured when completed will be the means of saving millions of dollars to the railroad.

The opponents of the railroad in the dispute are the ranchers of Phoenix, Arizona and victims who propose to construct an immense dam across the canyon which it is planned will impound sufficient water to irrigate 30,000 acres of new arid land.

The matter comes within the jurisdiction of the department of the interior by virtue of the fact that much of the land in question is within the San Carlos Indian reservation.

The original trouble between Mr. Bursum and Mr. Hageman grew out of certain recommendations made by Mr. Bursum after Hageman became governor, regarding the appointment of territorial officials and others.

George Washington Pritchard, now campaigning with Mr. Hageman was one of the bones of contention.

Mr. Bursum was chairman of the Republican State Central committee. He had a reasonable right to make suggestions to the governor of the territory.

He ventured to make one or two suggestions regarding appointments.

Mr. Hageman became indignant.

He asserted that Mr. Bursum and no other man could presume to make recommendations to him as to any appointment.

Mr. Hageman stated that the appointment of territorial officials was his personal privilege and that he would get rid of Mr. Bursum or any other man who attempted to interfere with that privilege.

He also stated that he would ruin Mr. Bursum's political standing and his influence in the territory.

I had several interviews with Mr. Hageman and he repeated a number

DAN GRANT'S CANDIDATE PROVES OUR CHARGES

After a delay of two weeks, on every day of which the man has been called to his abode through the public press, W. C. McDonald has at last come out in an affidavit relative to the charge that on October 14 in a public speech in Albuquerque, he told a statement falsehood as to the amount of public land leased by himself and his corporations. The two essential parts of Mr. McDonald's defense are:

1. That his hearing was, the Journal-Democrat, Red in its report of his speech.

2. That the statement which he actually made was that "the corporation which I engaged had not an acre of leased land in New Mexico at that time."

McDonald's speech shows that the published reports of his remarks were correct, and that the candidate sought to give the impression that neither he nor any corporation with which he is connected hold any leases of the public land.

Mr. McDonald has endeavored to shield himself behind the very disingenuous defense. Taking his affidavit at its face value,

W. C. McDonald stands condemned by his own words for the sake of his corporation.

Redards of the land office in Santa Fe show that El Capitan Living Stock Company of Carrizozo, N. M., of which he is manager, holds a lease on 8,712.80 acres of land which does not expire until October 1, 1914.

The Evening Herald charged that W. C. McDonald told a delusion falsehood to the people of New Mexico. W. C. McDonald not only proved that our charge is true but supported it with his own affidavit.

G. V. SAFFORD GIVES LIE TO WHITEWASH CHARGE

Exposes the Animus Behind
Hagerman's Attack on Bursum and Shows It Is Actuated
by Personal Malice.

ALLEGED "EXPERT" WAS PAID $1,200

Hagerman Declared Territory
Not Big Enough for Him and Bursum; Deliberately
Set to Work to Ruin Him.

No comment is needed upon the following letter from Hon. Chas V. Safford to the people of New Mexico. It so completes the libelous innuendoes which have been cast upon Mr. Safford's integrity by the Journal-Democrat, and in such a full and convincing statement of the circumstances and motives which lie behind the dastardly attempt to disgrace H. O. Bursum that it can not fail to arouse the deepest resentment throughout New Mexico against the conspirators who participated in the attempt to blacken the name of a good and able citizen. Mr. Safford's letter is as follows:

Albuquerque, N. M., Oct. 29, 1911.

To the People of New Mexico:

The Albuquerque Morning Journal in course of its fight on Mr. H. O. Bursum, Republican candidate for governor of this state, has seen fit in a number of recent publications to seek to draw me into the controversy with the instigation that my report made under the direction of the court upon Mr. Bursum's administration as superintendent of the New Mexico penitentiary, was "cooked up unfair." The Journal's effort has been to create the impression that the examination I made was not thorough, was misleading, was made with the sole purpose of "white-washing" Mr. Bursum.

The Journal is giving such publicity to this matter, it is advertising what it chooses to call my "cleverness." The effort to injure me and to attack my integrity has not been as unprincipled as the assault upon Mr. Bursum. I feel, therefore, that I should make a statement covering the matter of this report and the events leading up to it since I am personally familiar with every detail of the attempt of H. J. Hagerman and the Morning Journal to ruin the reputation of Mr. Bursum.